The truth is ...

- This is our first FREE & online event. It's free because we understand the seriousness of the situation and lock downs all over the globe, and that is our contribution to the world facing crisis
- We reach out to all those who entered recession unprepared, with no passive income background, as well as to those who are redistributing their profits and investments because of the upcoming crisis.
- Crisis is full of opportunities, and that is what we want to show you.

We are building on the success of our previous six editions to create interesting and profitable investment opportunities where together thousands of worldwide attendees will be exposed to the latest global investment trends, products and strategies through conversations with leading industry experts, popular influencers and what's more, build your investment network.
